India

Summary

I am a Quality Assurance Engineer with experience in both manual and automation testing across web and mobile applications (Android & iOS). I have hands-on experience in executing functional, regression, and end-to-end testing to ensure high-quality software delivery. I am skilled in automation tools like Selenium and Appium, along with API testing using Postman. I have a strong understanding of Agile and Scrum methodologies, working closely with cross-functional teams to deliver reliable and scalable applications. With a solid foundation in Core Java and OOPs concepts, I focus on building efficient test solutions and continuously improving my testing and automation skills.
